A crowd of nearly 500, including about 350 Women's Health Committee members dressed in brightly-colored pulchritude, attended this morning's dedication of the new W.H.C. Civic Center fale in Fagatogo.

The dedication activities got underway at about 9 a.m. when the Aua Band led a procession of W.H.C. members from about Ben Laurenson's Garage to the Civic Center. W.H.C. delegates from Western Samoa and Manu'a were part of the parade.

After a hymn, Bible reading invocation and ribbon-cutting ceremony, a number of brief talks were made. Mrs. Arieta E. Mulitauaoepele, president of the Women's Health Committee of American Samoa, told the dedication crowd that the new Civic Center is a symbol of improved health for Samoans everywhere.

"We may be separate politically from our brothers in Western Samoa, but we are all one people culturally," she said.

Other talks were given by Acting Governor Owen S. Aspinall, Dr. Allen Service, Mrs. Fetau Mata'afa, president of the W.H.C. of Western Samoa, and High Talking Chief Lauvao-Lolo. High Talking Chief Mulitauaoepele S. was master of ceremonies.

SICK PASSENGER ABOARD GERMAN SHIP DIES; BODY DELIVERED HERE

A woman passenger aboard the German cargo-passenger ship Cap Frio died yesterday morning at sea. Her body was delivered here just before 2 a.m. today, and the vessel continued its journey to Australia.

The dead woman was identified by port officials only as Mrs. Daniels, wife of Walter Daniels of Redwood, California. A port official said he understood Mrs. Daniels became very ill as the Cap Frio was near Christmas Island, just below the equator. A doctor on Christmas Island was taken out to meet the ship, and the Cap Frio headed for Pago Pago, where they planned to put her in a hospital. The ship's captain did not request an emergency evacuation.

She died yesterday morning, however, as the ship was about 150 miles north of Pago Pago. The Cap Frio arrived in Pago Pago Harbor just before 2 o'clock this morning, and the body was taken off the ship for transport back to California. Also debarking from the ship were Mrs. Daniels' husband and the doctor, Dr. George Creek.

The Daily Bulletin could not locate Dr. Creek this morning to learn the cause of the woman's death.

WOMAN FACES SURGERY; BLOOD DONORS NEEDED

A visitor from the mainland will undergo surgery in the Hospital of American Samoa on Monday, and she will need two pints of Type-O-Positive blood.

Mrs. Felicia Frey was taken ill here while she and her yachtsman husband were waiting out the hurricane season's end before proceeding on their voyage.

Acting Hospital Administrator Matagi'ese Tunoa requested that those persons of the required blood type, who are willing to be blood donors, report to the hospital tomorrow morning between 8 and 10 o'clock.

ALLEN WARNS OF DANGERS OF CARELESSNESS IN COOKING

Second-degree burns suffered recently by a 15-year-old boy from the village of Atu'u prompted Commissioner of Public Safety Dewey Allen to warn of the dangers of careless cooking.

Misi Ti was hospitalized by severe burns of the chest and upper shoulders when he spilled cooking fat into a fire. His condition is satisfactory.

Both the police and fire departments responded to the emergency call. The youth was taken to the Hospital of American Samoa. Damage to the cooking fale was negligible.

Allen said the accident should serve to remind everyone to be particularly careful when cooking with fat, which is highly inflammable.

NO END IN SIGHT FOR HAWAII BUS STRIKE

HONOLULU (UPI) -- Teamsters union president Arthur Rutledge said the strike against Honolulu Rapid Transit company will be a long one and "no one cares about it."

The labor leader said he believes HRT head Harry Weinberg will sell any stock he has in the company if the price is right. Rutledge added that HRT wants to sell the bus line to the city.

Meanwhile, about 70,000 commuters began an exodus to their homes, using cars, bicycles, taxis and tired feet.

It did not appear likely that an end to the two-day-old strike is in sight. No negotiations were scheduled.

The teamsters went on strike at one minute past midnight Tuesday over a five-cent-an-hour raise for the bus drivers.
